What happens if a Summer 2020 GO Your Way or Fall 2020 GO Long student has already booked airfare?

One of our travel agency partners has outlined a document that compiled the information in one place, to assist you.

Each airline has their own policy regarding refunds and cancellation waivers due to the coronavirus. These are being updated regularly as the situation is changing minute to minute. While airlines that have cancelled flights directly into areas with coronavirus outbreaks will provide refunds, many airlines are offering to waive change and/or cancellation fees for flights booked in the next few weeks to provide you with protection and flexibility with upcoming travel plans. All of these airline-specific policies apply to tickets booked directly with an airline and through travel agencies.

When will GO make a decision about postponing a program?

The timing of decisions will be based on a balance of global health news, public health and safety advisories, travel restrictions, visa application dates (when applicable), and program deadlines (when applicable), as well as feedback from on-site contacts. Once a decision has been made to postpone a program, GO will promptly notify students with details about alternative options.

Summer GO Short 2020: The GO office makes postponement and cancellation decisions for these programs.

As of March 6, programs will continue as planned in countries that have state department advisories level 1 and 2.

Shortly after the recommendation from the State Department to avoid unnecessary travel to Italy, the Summer GO Short 2020 program Arts of Italy was postponed until winter. GO communicated directly students who are enrolled in that program.

“GO Short” programs are study-away options offered during winter and summer breaks in which students attend programs that are directly managed and administered by the GO office.

Summer GO Your Way 2020: Decisions to postpone or cancel are made by each program provider; therefore, the timing may vary. If a program is cancelled by the provider, the program provider and GO will work with students to help them find alternatives.

As of March 6, programs will continue as planned in countries that have state department advisories level 1 and 2. For students who were approved for a program in Italy, GO advised students to consider alternative program locations for summer 2020, as GO does not approve travel/reserves the right to rescind approval for a program in a region with a level 3 or 4 advisory.

“GO Your Way” programs are options during winter and summer break. Students typically attend study abroad programs through providers.

Fall GO Long 2020: Decisions to postpone or cancel programs are made by each program provider; therefore, the timing may vary. If a program is cancelled by the provider, GO will work with students to help them find alternatives. For SWSB London, GO office makes postponement and cancellation decisions for this program. As of March 6, no changes have been made to programs that have been approved for the fall.

GO does not approve travel/reserves the right to rescind approval for a program in a region with a level 3 or 4 advisory.

“GO Long” programs are options during the semester in which students attend programs not directly managed or administered by the GO office.

My Fall GO Long 2020 program is located in a level 3 or 4 region – is it already canceled?

As of March 6, no providers have made changes to Fall GO Long 2020 programs in which Susquehanna students have been approved. GO reserves the right to rescind approval for a program in a region with a level 3 or 4 advisory; therefore, the approval status of these programs could change if restrictions are not lifted.
