

Hello GO Long Asia Students and Emergency Contacts,

We understand that you have been receiving updates from your program provider directly. If you have any additional questions about your program, please let us know. We are here to support you.

Please continue to follow the advice of, and read the updates from, your program. We want to take this opportunity to remind you of:

- EXERCISING INCREASED CAUTION as this is a fluid situation and the governments are updating their travel advisories frequently.
- PRACTICING safe hygiene:
  - WASH your hands frequently, use an alcohol-based HAND SANITIZER.
  - Cough/sneeze into your sleeve or a tissue, dispose of used tissues appropriately.
  - Clean surfaces with disinfectants regularly.
  - Avoid close contact with people who show flu-like symptoms.
- If you have flu symptoms (fever, cough, difficulty breathing), to contact local health authorities by phone and wait for information while self-quarantining. Please also notify your on-site staff.

Students can choose to leave their GO program at any time. At this point in the semester, you have been there long enough to have fulfilled the GO requirement itself. Susquehanna University cannot cancel a program managed by a third party; however, a student can choose to leave a program.

However, you must inform your program directly of your decision to leave the program and work with them on appropriate steps for departure. This is especially important since your program may be working on alternative options for you to receive credit. SU does not control the credits issued by the program. We can help facilitate conversations, but you need to initiate the decision to leave and inform program and GO of your decision. You would also need to work directly with the airline or booking agency with whom you booked your flights to change your return date.

Best,

Scott Manning, Dean of Global Programs
Molly Roe, Director of GO
Ariana Stuhl, Study Away Advisor
